

Privacy Policy

AC Solar Warehouse is committed to providing quality services to you and this policy outlines our ongoing obligations to you in respect of how we manage your Personal Information.

We have adopted the Australian Privacy Principles (APPs) contained in the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) (the Privacy Act). The APPs govern the way in which we collect, use, disclose, store, secure and dispose of your Personal Information.

A copy of the Australian Privacy Principles may be obtained from the website of The Office of the Australian Information Commissioner at <https://www.oaic.gov.au/>

1. What is Personal Information and why do we collect it?

Personal Information is information or an opinion that identifies an individual. Examples of Personal Information we collect includes names, addresses, email addresses, phone and facsimile numbers. This Personal Information is obtained in many ways including interviews, correspondence, by telephone, by email, via our website www.acsolarwarehouse.com, from your website, from media and publications, from other publicly available sources and from third parties. We don't guarantee website links or policy of authorised third parties.

We collect your Personal Information for the primary purpose of providing our services to you, providing information to our clients and marketing. We may also use your Personal Information for secondary purposes closely related to the primary purpose, in circumstances where you would reasonably expect such use or disclosure. You may unsubscribe from our mailing/marketing lists at any time by contacting us in writing.

When we collect Personal Information, we will, where appropriate and where possible, explain to you why we are collecting the information and how we plan to use it.

2. Sensitive Information

Sensitive information is defined in the Privacy Act to include information or opinion about such things as an individual's racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, membership of a political association, religious or philosophical beliefs, membership of a trade union or other professional body, criminal record, or health information.

Sensitive information will be used by us only:

- For the primary purpose for which it was obtained
- For a secondary purpose that is directly related to the primary purpose
- With your consent, or where required or authorised by law.

3. Third Parties

Where reasonable and practicable to do so, we will collect your Personal Information only from you. However, in some circumstances we may be provided with information by third parties. In such a case we will take reasonable steps to ensure that you are made aware of the information provided to us by the third party.

4. Disclosure of Personal Information

Your Personal Information may be disclosed in a number of circumstances including the following:

- Third parties where you consent to the use or disclosure; and
- Where required or authorised by law.

5. Security of Personal Information

Your Personal Information is stored in a manner that reasonably protects it from misuse and loss and from unauthorized access, modification, or disclosure.

When your Personal Information is no longer needed for the purpose for which it was obtained, we will take reasonable steps to destroy or permanently de-identify your Personal Information. However, most of the Personal Information is or will be stored in client files which will be kept by us for a minimum of 7 years.

6. Access to your Personal Information

You may access the Personal Information we hold about you and to update and/or correct it, subject to certain exceptions. If you wish to access your Personal Information, please contact us in writing.

AC Solar Warehouse will not charge any fee for your access request but may charge an administrative fee for providing a copy of your Personal Information.

In order to protect your Personal Information, we may require identification from you before releasing the requested information.

7. Maintaining the Quality of your Personal Information

It is an important to us that your Personal Information is up to date. We will take reasonable steps to make sure that your Personal Information is accurate, complete and up to date. If you find that the information we have is not up to date or is inaccurate, please advise us as soon as practicable so we can update our records and ensure we can continue to provide quality services to you.

8. What we collect

The type of personal information that we collect about you depends on the type of dealings you have with us. For example, if you are a:

Commercial customer - we collect details such as your name, job title, address, telephone number, email address, credit-related information about you (see Credit Related Personal Information), payment details and transaction related information (such as your purchasing and payment history with us). We may also collect your driver's licence number if you pay by cheque, for identification purposes.

Supplier - we collect details such as your name, job title, address, telephone number, email address, payment details and transaction related information (such as items we have purchased from you)

Attendee to an event (trade show, training session, industry networking) - we will collect your name, job title, email address and phone number, whether you are an exhibitor or a delegate and, if you are a delegate, details about your business (such as whether you have an AC Solar Warehouse account)

Entrant in a competition - we will collect your name; contact details and any other information you provide when submitting your entry

Person sending an enquiry or providing feedback - we may collect your name, contact details, details of your enquiry or feedback and information about our response

Job applicant - we will collect the information you include in your job application, including your cover letter, resume, contact details and referee reports

9. Collection of information other than personal information through our website

When you visit our website, some of the information that is collected about your visit is not personal information, as it does not reveal your identity.

9.1 Website visit information

For example, we record your server address, the date and time of your visit, the pages you visited, any documents you downloaded, the previous site you visited and the type of device, browser, and operating system you used.

We use and disclose this information in anonymous, aggregated form only, for purposes including statistical analysis and to assist us to improve the functionality and usability of our website. You are not individually identified; however, we reserve the right to use or disclose this information to try to locate an individual where we reasonably believe that the individual may have engaged in any unlawful or inappropriate activity in connection with our website, or where we are otherwise required or authorised by law to do so.

9.2 Cookies

A cookie is a small string of information that a website transfers to your browser for identification purposes. The cookies we use do not identify individual users, although they do identify the user's internet browser.

We use cookies to hold anonymous session information. This information is used to personalise your current visit to the website, for example to allow the website to remember who you are.

Most internet browsers are set to accept cookies. If you prefer not to receive them, you can adjust your internet browser to reject cookies, or to notify you when they are being used. There are also software products available that can manage cookies for you. Rejecting cookies can, however, limit the functionality of our website.

10. How we collect personal information

We collect personal information in a number of ways, including:

- when you provide information in person (for example, in our stores and at industry trade shows)
- through our website (for example, if you use our online platform or complete the "email us" form)
- over the telephone
- through written correspondence (such as letters and emails)
- on hard copy forms (for example, competition entry forms and surveys)
- through surveillance cameras at our warehouses and offices
- from third parties, including credit reporting bodies and other credit providers (see Credit Related Personal Information)

10.1. Collection notification

Where we collect personal information about you, we will take reasonable steps to provide you with certain details about that collection (such as why we are collecting the information and who we may share it with). We will generally include these details when collecting personal information.

These details provide more specific information than this Privacy Policy. The terms of this Privacy Policy are subject to any specific provisions outlined and, in the terms, and conditions of particular offers, products and services. We encourage you to read those provisions at the time of submitting information.

11. Why we collect personal information

The main purposes for which we collect, hold, use and disclose personal information are set out below.

- processing transactions for products and services (both in-person and online) and delivering products and services to customers
- establishing and operating credit accounts for our customers, conducting credit checks (see Credit Related Personal Information)
- and collecting overdue payments
- establishing and operating online accounts for our customers
- operating incentive programs
- promoting ourselves and our products and services, including through direct marketing, events, and competitions (see “Direct marketing” below)
- sourcing products and services for our business
- performing research and statistical analysis, including for customer satisfaction and product and service improvement purposes
- protecting the security of our offices, warehouses, staff, customers, suppliers, and merchandise (including theft and fraud prevention)
- answering queries and resolving complaints
- recruiting staff and contractors

We may also collect, hold, use and disclose personal information for other purposes explained at the time of collection; which are permitted by law; or for which you have provided your consent.

11.1 Direct marketing

We may contact you directly to let you know about us and our products and services (including special offers, promotions, events and changes to our products and services), either where we have your express or implied consent, or where we are otherwise permitted by law to do so. We may contact you in a variety of ways, including by attending at your street address, or by mail, email, or SMS.

When you provide your personal information to us, AC Solar Warehouse is required to give you the choice as to whether or not you wish to receive further information about special offers, promotions, and changes to our products and services. If you indicate that you do not wish to receive these, we will not contact you further for these purposes. Please allow 28 days for your request to be processed.

If you receive promotional information about AC Solar Warehouse and do not wish to receive this information any longer, you may remove your name from our list by contacting our marketing department on (07) 4028 3979 and asking to be removed from our mailing list. Please allow 28 days for this request to be processed.

If you receive marketing material by email, you can request to not receive further email marketing material by clicking on the unsubscribe button in the email you have received.

11.2 Opting out

Where you have consented to receiving marketing communications from us, your consent will remain current until you advise us otherwise. However, you can opt out at any time, by:

- contacting us (details under heading 10 below)

- advising us if you receive a marketing call that you no longer wish to receive these calls
- using the unsubscribe facility that we include in our commercial electronic messages (such as emails and SMS)

12. Who we may share your personal information with

We may share your personal information with third parties where appropriate for the purposes set out under 'Why we collect personal information', including:

- financial institutions for payment processing
- credit reporting bodies and other credit providers (see Credit Related Personal Information)
- regulatory, investigative or government bodies where required or authorised by law
- referees whose details are provided to us by job applicants
- our contracted service providers, including:
 - freight and delivery providers
 - information technology and data storage providers
 - function and event organisers
 - marketing and communications agencies
 - research and statistical analysis providers
 - debt collectors
 - call centres
 - hard copy and electronic mail houses
 - external business advisers (such as recruitment advisors, accountants, auditors and lawyers)

In each case, we may disclose personal information to the service provider and the service provider may in turn provide us with personal information collected from you in the course of providing the relevant products or services.

13. Credit-related personal information

13.1 General

We may provide credit within the meaning of the Privacy Act to our customers in connection with the supply of our products and services (for example, if we bill you after supplying products or services to your business). If we share credit-related personal information about you with credit reporting bodies ("CRBs") or other participants in the credit reporting system (including other credit providers), we are required to comply with the credit reporting provisions in Part IIIA of the Privacy Act and the Credit Reporting Privacy Code ("CR Code").

13.2 Why we collect credit-related personal information

We collect, hold, use and disclose credit-related personal information for the purposes permitted by the Privacy Act and the CR Code, including:

- to assess your application for credit and verify your identity
- if you are a director of a corporate customer:
 - to assess whether to accept you as a guarantor of the corporate customer's obligations under a credit facility provided by Lawrence & Hanson
 - to collect payments that are overdue in relation to commercial credit provided to the corporate customer
- to derive assessments, evaluations, scores, ratings and summaries relating to your creditworthiness

- to manage your account, including collecting payments and assisting you to avoid defaulting on your credit obligations
- to undertake debt recovery and enforcement activities
- to participate in the credit reporting system (including by providing credit-related personal information to CRBs and other credit providers)
- for other purposes required or authorised by law

13.3 The credit-related personal information we collect

The credit-related personal information that we may collect, and hold includes:

- your current and prior names, addresses and employers, gender, date of birth and driver's licence number
- the fact that you have applied for credit with us, or other credit providers and the type and amount of credit sought
- the fact that you have agreed to guarantee the obligations of another under a credit facility offered by us
- the day that credit is entered into with us or other credit providers, the terms or conditions of that credit and the maximum amount of credit available
- the day on which credit provided to your business is terminated or otherwise ceases
- credit payments of $100 or more owed to us or another credit provider that are overdue for more than 60 days that you have been notified of (and whether you have subsequently repaid the overdue amount)
- whether you have committed a serious credit infringement
- whether you have entered into an arrangement with us or another credit provider in connection with credit provided to your business
- credit-related court proceedings and personal insolvency information
- publicly available credit-related information
- a credit rating or score that is calculated by a CRB (or by us using information from a CRB) and that has a bearing on your creditworthiness
- administrative information relating to credit provided by us

13.4 How we collect and hold credit-related personal information

We collect credit-related personal information from you (directly or through the operation of your account with us), from CRBs and other credit providers and from other third parties where this is permitted under Part IIIA of the Privacy Act. We may also generate the information ourselves, through our own analyses.

The information will be held by us on our customer database, in physical and/or electronic form located in Australia.

13.5 Who we disclose credit-related personal information to

We may disclose credit-related personal information to third parties for the purposes outlined above, including to:

- CRBs and other credit providers
- our related bodies corporate
- third parties that manage credit applications for us
- debt collectors and credit management agencies
- third parties in connection with the potential assignment of debts, security for credit or purchase of an interest in AC Solar Warehouse
- other third parties where required or authorised by law

CRBs may include the information we provide them in reports provided to other credit providers, to assist them in assessing your creditworthiness.

13.5 Your rights in relation to CRBs

Pre-screening for direct marketing – Credit providers can ask CRBs to use your credit reporting information to “pre-screen” marketing lists for the credit provider. You can tell CRBs not to use your credit reporting information for this purpose by contacting them (details above).

Victims of fraud – If you think you have been, or are likely to be, a victim of fraud (including identity fraud), you can contact the CRB and ask them to put a ban on using or disclosing your credit reporting information.

13.6 Access and correction of credit eligibility information

You have the right to access and correct the credit-related personal information that we hold about you. If you wish to make an access or correction request, please refer to heading 6.

13.7 Complaints about credit-related personal information

If you have a complaint about our handling of credit-related personal information, please refer to heading 9.

13.8 Cross border disclosure of personal information

We may disclose personal information to third parties located overseas in the following locations:

New Zealand

United States

In each case, we will comply with the requirements of the Privacy Act that apply to cross border disclosures of personal information.

14. Data quality and security

14.1 General

We hold personal information in a number of ways, including in hard copy documents, electronic databases, email contact lists, and in paper files held in drawers and cabinets. Paper files may also be archived in boxes and stored offsite in secure facilities. We take reasonable steps to:

- make sure that the personal information that we collect, use, and disclose is accurate, up to date and complete and (in the case of use and disclosure) relevant.
- protect the personal information that we hold from misuse, interference, and loss and from unauthorised access, modification, or disclosure; and
- destroy or permanently de-identify personal information that is no longer needed for any purpose that is permitted by the Australian Privacy Principles (“APPs”).

You can help us keep your information up to date, by letting us know about any changes to your details, such as your address, email address or phone number.

14.2 Security

The steps we take to secure the personal information we hold include website protection measures (such as firewalls and anti-virus software), security restrictions on access to our computer systems (such as login and password protection), controlled access to our premises, policies on document storage and security, personnel security (including restricting access to personal information on our systems to staff who need that access to carry out their duties), staff training and workplace policies.

14.2 Online credit card payment security

We process payments using EFTPOS and online technologies. All transactions processed by us meet industry security standards to ensure payment details are protected.

14.2 Website security

While we strive to protect the personal information and privacy of users of our website, we cannot guarantee the security of any information that you disclose online, and you disclose that information at your own risk. If you are concerned about sending your information over the internet, you can contact us by telephone or post.

If you are a registered user of our online platform, you can also help to protect the privacy of your personal information by maintaining the confidentiality of your user ID and password, and by ensuring that you log out of the website when you have finished using it. In addition, if you become aware of any security breach, please let us know as soon as possible.

15. Complaints

15.1 General

If you have a complaint about how we have collected or handled your personal information, please contact us. Our complaints process will depend on whether your complaint relates to the APPs or to credit-related personal information, as explained below.

15.2 Complaints process – APPs

We will endeavour in the first instance to deal with your complaint and take any steps necessary to resolve the matter within a week. If your complaint can't be resolved at the first instance, we will ask you to submit your complaint in writing.

We will endeavour to acknowledge receipt of your written complaint within 5 business days of receiving it and to complete our investigation into your complaint in a timely manner. This may include, for example, gathering the relevant facts, locating, and reviewing relevant documents and speaking to relevant individuals.

In most cases, we expect that complaints will be investigated, and a response be provided within 30 days of receipt of your written complaint. If the matter is more complex and our investigation may take longer, we will write and let you know, and tell you when we expect to provide our response.

15.3 Complaints process – credit-related personal information

We will provide you with a written notice acknowledging your complaint and explaining how we will deal with it within 7 days after the complaint is made. We will then investigate the complaint, consult any CRB or other credit providers if we consider it necessary and provide you with a written notice of our decision within 30 days (or longer if you agree).

15.4 If you are not satisfied with our response

If you are not satisfied with our response, you can refer your complaint to the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner (see www.oaic.gov.au for further information).

16. Our contact details

Please contact us if you have any queries about the personal information that we hold about you or the way we handle that personal information. Our contact details are set out below.
